PEST CONTROL ACQUISTIONS: A-1 ECONOMICS & ALTAMAH PEST CONTROL

Yates-Astro is proud to share two exciting company growth updates from 2026. In July, our team acquired A-1 Economic Exterminators, continuing service for customers in Glynn, Brantley, and McIntosh counties after owner Shirley Madray thoughtfully chose Yates-Astro to carry on caring for her valued customers and friends. On Wednesday, September 15, Yates-Astro also completed the acquisition of Altamaha Pest Control, a trusted Claxton-area company founded by the late Talmadge Yarbrough and later led by his granddaughter, Cheyanne Durrence. We are honored to continue the strong customer relationships, community commitment, and trusted service both companies have built over the years. View our announcements: Altamaha Pest Control & A-1 Economics .

FORT PULASKI - TERMITE JOB

On July 9, 2026, our Yates-Astro team had the privilege of providing termite protection for Fort Pulaski National Monument, helping preserve one of our area's most treasured historic landmarks and continuing our commitment to protecting history, one treatment at a time.

OUR TEAM CARES ABOUT THE COMMUNUITY

We are grateful for the opportunity to stay connected, give back, and support organizations that make a positive impact in the communities we serve.

EMPLOYEE APRECIATION TAILGATE!

On Friday, September 25th 2026, our Savannah office celebrated an Employee Appreciation Tailgate filled with food, games, prizes, and team spirit! Employees wore their favorite sports apparel, enjoyed burgers and hot dogs cooked by our managers, and took part in fun activities like trivia, raffles, and outdoor games. It was a great afternoon to relax, celebrate our team, and show appreciation for what our employees do every day.

STEPTEMEBER CHALLENGE

During the month of September, the Savannah office staff is working together to reach a goal of 3 million steps. At the end of the month, four employees will be awarded for their participation, and if the team reaches the overall goal, everyone will celebrate with a group reward!

BUG BINGO FRIDAY

The Savannah office staff has started a fun Friday tradition with Bug Bingo, bringing a little friendly competition and laughter to the end of the week. Winners can take home random prizes like $2, a roll of toilet paper, funny salt and pepper shakers, and more — but the real prize is the fun!
